SYNTHETIC DEMONSTRATION PUBLICATION

Market Intelligence Report

2,398 synthetic responses

Prepared by VoiceInsights Africa

Every Voice. Every Language. Every Insight.

Synthetic demonstration. Not official statistics.

Every number in this publication answers one question: what is actually happening with market research performance in Ghana, and for whom. The pattern that emerges is one of uneven progress, concentrated risk, and opportunities that remain genuinely actionable. The discipline behind this publication is traceability â synthetic evidence behind every finding, a named owner behind every recommendation, one internally consistent dataset behind every statistic.

Rural women in Greater Accra are living the consequence of addressable demand, not simply reporting it. Their 82% signal is the clearest evidence leadership has that current measures fall short. rural women in Greater Accra do not experience addressable demand as an abstract metric. They experience it as the difference between market research delivery that works and delivery that does not, and a twelve-month delay would deepen that gap rather than hold it steady.

Evidence: EVI-MAR-001, EVI-MAR-004 & Confidence 94.5%

Progress on segment economics remains visible but not yet durable. The 83% result in Ashanti weakens after disaggregation, particularly for young adults, suggesting that current gains depend on delivery conditions that remain fragile. The clearest signal in this dataset â though not the only one â is segment economics in Ashanti, where young adults sit furthest from parity.

Evidence: EVI-MAR-002, EVI-MAR-005 â Confidence 95.5%

Digital trust is not a marginal delivery issue. In Northern Growth Markets, the governed evidence indicates a 84% performance signal, with persons with disabilities carrying the most consequential constraint. Left unaddressed, digital trust becomes a structural risk to market research delivery in Ghana, not a temporary dip. Northern Growth Markets is furthest exposed, and persons with disabilities would carry the earliest and heaviest consequences of a further year's delay.

Evidence: EVI-MAR-003, EVI-MAR-006 & Confidence 96.5%

Channel productivity has become an accountability question rather than a measurement question. Evidence from Digital Nationwide places the signal at 85% and shows that frontline workers experience the largest gap between policy intent and lived delivery. The choice facing market research leadership in Ghana is straightforward even if the fix is not: act on channel productivity now, concentrated in Digital Nationwide where frontline workers carry the largest share of the gap, or accept a wider gap in a year's time.

Evidence: EVI-MAR-004, EVI-MAR-007 â€¢ Confidence 92%

The aggregate result conceals a material implementation divide. Greater Accra records a 86% signal for competitive differentiation; the shortfall is concentrated among low-income households, where service continuity and confidence move together. low-income households in Greater Accra do not experience competitive differentiation as an abstract metric. They experience it as the difference between market research delivery that works and delivery that does not, and a twelve-month delay would deepen that gap rather than hold it steady.

Evidence: EVI-MAR-005, EVI-MAR-008 â€¢ Confidence 93%

Greater Accra â Elsewhere, addressable demand might be a footnote. For rural women in Greater Accra, it is the whole story.â

Ashanti â Young adults in Ashanti frame it simply: when segment economics breaks down, everything else does too.â

Northern Growth Markets â In Northern Growth Markets, digital trust shapes whether persons with disabilities can turn services into lasting outcomes.â

Digital Nationwide â Frontline workers in Digital Nationwide put it plainly: channel productivity is what decides whether progress holds or slips back.â

Greater Accra â Why does Greater Accra lag behind? Ask low-income households, and the answer comes back to competitive differentiation.â

Ashanti â Elsewhere, addressable demand might be a footnote. For service managers in Ashanti, it is the whole story.â

Northern Growth Markets â Community leaders in Northern Growth Markets frame it simply: when segment economics breaks down, everything else does too.â

DEC-MAR-02 MEDIUM: Test segment-specific pricing and propositions. Owner: Country Director / Programme Executive; Timeline: 6â 18 months; Indicator: Number of agreed milestones for DEC-MAR-02 confirmed complete at each quarterly review

DEC-MAR-03 CRITICAL: Build visible privacy and fraud-protection signals. Owner: Country Director / Programme Executive; Timeline: 0â 90 days; Indicator: Percentage of agreed milestones completed for DEC-MAR-03

DEC-MAR-04 CRITICAL: Shift acquisition to the most productive channel mix. Owner: Country Director / Programme Executive; Timeline: 3â 12 months; Indicator: Share of the critical-tier delivery plan confirmed complete each quarter (DEC-MAR-04)

DEC-MAR-05 HIGH: Defend differentiation through service reliability. Owner: Country Director / Programme Executive; Timeline: 3â 12 months; Indicator: Milestone completion rate tracked against the DEC-MAR-05 delivery plan

Prioritise the two highest-value underserved segments.

Strategic priority: HIGH

Evidence used: EVI-MAR-001, EVI-MAR-004

Rationale: Rural women in Greater Accra are living the consequence of addressable demand, not simply reporting it. Their 82% signal is the clearest evidence leadership has that current measures fall short. rural women in Greater Accra do not experience addressable demand as an abstract metric. They experience it as the difference between market research delivery that works and delivery that does not, and a twelve-month delay would deepen that gap rather than hold it steady.

Expected benefit: Reduced variation in market research delivery and a stronger evidence base for the next planning cycle.

Expected risk: Fragmented accountability once implementation moves beyond the pilot stage

Dependencies: Validated operational baseline; Cross-team delivery coordination; Sign-off from the relevant oversight body

Budget requirement: Medium â likely fundable from existing lines, pending confirmation

Owner: Country Director / Programme Executive

Supporting organization: M&E, Finance, Safeguarding and Delivery Units

Timeline: 3â 12 months

Monitoring indicator: Quarterly-verified progress against the milestones agreed for this high-tier decision (DEC-MAR-01)

Success criteria: Verified evidence of at least 80% delivery against the agreed milestone plan

Management response: PENDING FORMAL MANAGEMENT RESPONSE

Follow-up: Assign accountable owner; Validate budget; Approve milestone plan; Review evidence quarterly

Test segment-specific pricing and propositions.

Strategic priority: MEDIUM

Evidence used: EVI-MAR-002, EVI-MAR-005

Rationale: Progress on segment economics remains visible but not yet durable. The 83% result in Ashanti weakens after disaggregation, particularly for young adults, suggesting that current gains depend on delivery conditions that remain fragile. The clearest signal in this dataset – though not the only one – is segment economics in Ashanti, where young adults sit furthest from parity.

Expected benefit: The evidence points toward improved market research outcomes, though the size of the gain will depend on how consistently the action is resourced.

Expected risk: Likely – though not certain – erosion of momentum if the initial sponsor changes role

Dependencies: Quarterly evidence review; Stable staffing through the delivery window;

Named executive sponsor

Budget requirement: Low to medium – validate through the formal planning cycle

Owner: Country Director / Programme Executive

Supporting organization: M&E, Finance, Safeguarding and Delivery Units

Timeline: 6–18 months

Monitoring indicator: Number of agreed milestones for DEC-MAR-02 confirmed complete at each quarterly review

Success criteria: At least 80% of milestones achieved with verified evidence

Management response: PENDING FORMAL MANAGEMENT RESPONSE

Follow-up: Assign accountable owner; Validate budget; Approve milestone plan; Review evidence quarterly

Build visible privacy and fraud-protection signals.

Strategic priority: CRITICAL

Evidence used: EVI-MAR-003, EVI-MAR-006

Rationale: Digital trust is not a marginal delivery issue. In Northern Growth Markets, the governed evidence indicates a 84% performance signal, with persons with disabilities carrying the most consequential constraint. Left unaddressed, digital trust becomes a structural risk to market research delivery in Ghana, not a temporary dip. Northern Growth Markets is furthest exposed, and persons with disabilities would carry the earliest and heaviest consequences of a further year's delay.

Expected benefit: Improved equity, delivery confidence and measurable market research performance.

Expected risk: Insufficient ownership or delayed resourcing

Dependencies: Confirmed budget release; Timely data collection for the next reporting cycle; Validated operational baseline

Budget requirement: Medium to high â requires a dedicated budget line and phased release

Owner: Country Director / Programme Executive

Supporting organization: M&E, Finance, Safeguarding and Delivery Units

Timeline: 0â90 days

Monitoring indicator: Percentage of agreed milestones completed for DEC-MAR-03

Success criteria: A majority of milestones achieved, each independently verified against real evidence

Management response: PENDING FORMAL MANAGEMENT RESPONSE

Follow-up: Assign accountable owner; Validate budget; Approve milestone plan; Review evidence quarterly

Shift acquisition to the most productive channel mix.

Strategic priority: CRITICAL

Evidence used: EVI-MAR-004, EVI-MAR-007

Rationale: Channel productivity has become an accountability question rather than a measurement question. Evidence from Digital Nationwide places the signal at 85% and shows that frontline workers experience the largest gap between policy intent and lived delivery. The choice facing market research leadership in Ghana is straightforward even if the fix is not: act on channel productivity now, concentrated in Digital Nationwide where frontline workers carry the largest share of the gap, or accept a wider gap in a year's time.

Expected benefit: A more consistent market research experience for the groups currently furthest behind.

Expected risk: Weak cross-team coordination during early implementation

Dependencies: Cross-team delivery coordination; Sign-off from the relevant oversight body; Quarterly evidence review

Budget requirement: High â full business case and multi-year funding commitment required

Owner: Country Director / Programme Executive

Supporting organization: M&E, Finance, Safeguarding and Delivery Units

Timeline: 3â 12 months

Monitoring indicator: Share of the critical-tier delivery plan confirmed complete each quarter (DEC-MAR-04)

Success criteria: Milestone completion confirmed by evidence review, not self-reported progress

Management response: PENDING FORMAL MANAGEMENT RESPONSE

Follow-up: Assign accountable owner; Validate budget; Approve milestone plan; Review evidence quarterly

Defend differentiation through service reliability.

Strategic priority: HIGH

Evidence used: EVI-MAR-005, EVI-MAR-008

Rationale: The aggregate result conceals a material implementation divide. Greater Accra records a 86% signal for competitive differentiation; the shortfall is concentrated among low-income households, where service continuity and confidence move together. low-income households in Greater Accra do not experience competitive differentiation as an abstract metric. They experience it as the difference between market research delivery that works and delivery that does not, and a twelve-month delay would deepen that gap rather than hold it steady.

Expected benefit: Faster, better-evidenced market research decisions that corporate leadership can act on with confidence.

Expected risk: Competing priorities crowding out sustained follow-through

Dependencies: Stable staffing through the delivery window; Named executive sponsor;

Confirmed budget release

Budget requirement: Medium â likely fundable from existing lines, pending confirmation
